GDANSK UNIVERSITY OF TECHNOLOGY

GDAŃSK UNIVERSITY OF TECHNOLOGY

Gdańsk Tech – Gdańsk University of Technology (Polish name: Politechnika Gdańska) is one of the oldest universities in Poland and the largest technical university in Northern Poland. It was established in 1904 and since then has been educating world class engineers in various areas of science and technology.

Located in Gdańsk — a city with a thousand-year tradition and the gate to the Polish coastal line – it is the perfect place to study and enjoy student life.

MAIN INFORMATION

ABOUT GDAŃSK AND THE TRI-CITY

Gdańsk is the cultural, scientific, and economic center of Northern Poland. The city has 470,000 inhabitants, which places Gdańsk in sixth place in Poland in terms of population. Together with its neighboring cities — Sopot and Gdynia — it forms the Tri-City.

The first references about Gdańsk come from the tenth century. Throughout history, the city has been influenced several times by its stronger neighbors and has become a center of many cultures, religions and languages.

Well-known scholars were born here — mathematician and astronomer Johannes Hevelius, physicist Daniel Gabriel Fahrenheit, philosopher Arthur Schopenhauer, lawyer Gottfried Lengnich, writer Günther Grass. During the Renaissance and Baroque periods, sculptor Willem van den Blokke and his sons, sculptor and architect Abraham, and painter Isaac, worked here. Painter and draftsman Daniel Chodowiecki and the first ambassador in the history of Polish diplomacy Jan Dantyszek were also born in Gdańsk.

Despite significant war damage, the city was rebuilt and valuable monuments such as St. Mary's Basilica, the Main Town Hall, Artus Court, Neptune's Fountain, the Crane, the Great Armoury, the Wisłoujście Fortress, among others, are located here. The Tri-City is one of the main tourist destinations in Poland due to the proximity of the Baltic Sea (the Bay of Gdańsk), charming streets in the Old Town of Gdańsk, numerous monuments of secular and sacred architecture, Sopot pier, and beautiful landscapes.

Many enterprises from the shipbuilding, petrochemical and energy sectors are based in Gdańsk. Every year trade fairs of various industries take place in the city. The country's largest seaport is located here, as well as the third largest international airport in Poland.

MAIN STRENGTHS OF GDAŃSK TECH

Gdańsk Tech became the best technical research university in Poland in the competition of the Ministry of Science and Higher Education.

First place in 2018 and second place in 2019 in the ranking of the Ministry of Science and Higher Education measuring the popularity of studies among candidates.

Gdańsk Tech was classified as one of the 10 most beautiful universities in Europe according to the Times Higher Education University Rankings.

Gdańsk Tech is classified in the prestigious Academic Ranking of World Universities (ARWU), also known as the Shanghai Ranking, along with 8 Polish universities.

It employs 1200 academic teachers and educates 14 000 students.

Gdańsk Tech is composed of 8 faculties with 37 fields of study.

For potential candidates it is important to know that Gdańsk Tech is one of the most popular universities among young people.

International students at Gdańsk Tech enjoy unique support, both during the admission process and the duration of their studies, from Welcome Office.*

Graduates not only find a job easily after graduation, but also often successfully create and run their own businesses.

* Welcome Office is a part of the International Relations Office of Gdańsk Tech and was created to provide information and counselling to international candidates and students. Supportive, multilingual staff can answer questions regarding applications, the university, on legalization of stay in Poland, accommodation, and help with solving any problems that may arise

According to a nationwide survey, earnings of Gdańsk Tech graduates are in the fourth place among graduates in the country.
